WOW! It's playtime for toddlers. The little ones will be thrilled by the social and physical potential of the Daisy. Up to 4 children can seesaw, play, and cooperate at the same time, making this a highly versatile play unit, taking up little space and appealing to toddlers again and again. Apart from providing great play, the Daisy supports fundamental areas of a child's development and learning through play: Important motor skills such as balance and proprioception get trained when children rock, pushing their feet, and pulling their arms. While rocking together, toddlers additionally train important social-emotional skills such as cooperation. The logic of movement sequence trains the child's thinking skills. Daisy is truly playful learning.

KPL110

Handhold

Physical: opens more hold positions and ensures good grip, necessary for rocking intensely which trains hand and arm muscles.

Rocking together

Social-Emotional: the possibility of rocking two together trains cooperation skills and consideration of others.

Rocking spring

Physical: response to movements adds to spatial awareness and sense of balance which are fundamental motor skills.

Cognitive: trains the understanding of cause and effect: when I move my body, the spring responds with movement.

The overall framework applied for these factors is the Environmental Product Declaration (EPD), which quantifies "environmental information on the life cycle of a product and enable comparisons between products fulfilling the same function" (ISO, 2006). This follows the structure and applies a Life-Cycle Assessment approach to the entire Product stage from raw material through manufacturing (A1-A3))
