

Multideck Tower, Banister Bars, ADA

NRO1026

The Multideck Play Tower has a fun selection of scaled play challenges and meeting points stimulate children to play for a long time, again and again. The accessible stairway leads to a lower slide, finishing a practical loop for those with assistive devices or assistants. A play desk adds a ground level destination and a place to socialise. The tower can be climbed in multiple ways: via the stair, via the vertical climbing wall with window openings to decks, or via the net. Climbing trains major muscle groups and cross-coordination. This again stimulates cross-modal perception which is necessary e.g. in reading. For daredevils, the tall banister bars add plenty of thrill and a fast way back to ground level. This hugely trains spatial awareness, which is good for managing the world securely.

Side desk

Social-Emotional: fine meeting place and a space creator. Sharing and cooperation from both sides create a social scenario that supports communication and cooperation.

Climbing wall

Physical: supports cross coordination and leg, arm and hand strength. Climbing through the holes trains proprioception. Social-Emotional: children develop courage when climbing up high. This positively affects self-confidence.

Accessible stairway

Physical: climbing the accessible stairway is for all and supports cross coordination as well as arm and leg muscles. For young children, walking stairs and alternating feet is developed. Social-Emotional: room for active breaks and adult helpers. An inclusive space.

Slide

Physical: sliding develops spatial awareness and a sense of balance. Furthermore, the core muscles are trained when sitting upright going down. Social-Emotional: empathy stimulated by turn-taking.

Banister bars

Physical: coordination is supported when going down, as well as arm and core muscles. Landing strengthens bone density, which is built for life in childhood. Social-Emotional: turn-taking and risk-taking.

The overall framework applied for these factors is the Environmental Product Declaration (EPD), which quantifies "environmental information on the life cycle of a product and enable comparisons between products fulfilling the same function" (ISO, 2006). This follows the structure and applies a Life-Cycle Assessment approach to the entire Product stage from raw material through manufacturing (A1-A3))
