The Triple Tower with track is full of great fun. The track ride is a great play item that responds to the children's movement and urge for thrill. It will attract children again and again with its multiple play activities, it's accessible stairway, aztec climber and plank bridge. These will help train children's cross-coordination, which is important for the ability to e.g. read.

Climbing also trains legs and arm muscles, and the plank bridge trains balance. From the tower platform, the child can access the fabulous Turbo Challenge: hanging in hands or knees, children cooperate in getting across and spinning together. This promotes turn-taking skills and all round awareness, which is fundamental for managing the body confidently in the world. On ground level, the children can relax on the hammock while training coordination and their sense of balance, or play tic-tac-toe, which stimulates social-emotional development when children cooperate and turn-take.

Turbo challenge

Physical: upper body muscles are trained when hanging. Agility, proprioception and coordination are trained when spinning from one ring to the next. Spatial awareness and sense of balance are trained by the rotating motion. Social-Emotional: the sections of each of the spinners allow for more children hanging in arms or knees, cooperating. This trains empathy and turn-taking skills.

Timer

Social-Emotional: teams can each have a button to measure rounds, wins etc. The buttons support cooperation and teamwork. Cognitive: counting and registering support thinking skills such as logical thinking and sequencing. Creative: children can leave their mark, placing the timer in different positions.

Track Ride

Physical: train arm and core muscles. Bone density when jumping down from the handholds and motor skills like agility, balance and coordination are supported. Social-Emotional: cooperation, consideration, turn-taking, risk-taking, self-confidence.

Aztec climber

Physical: cross coordination is supported when children climb the ladder. The climbing also trains leg and arm muscles. Social-Emotional: turn-taking and cooperation is used.

Curved slide

Physical: sliding develops spatial awareness and a sense of balance. Furthermore, the core muscles are trained when sitting upright going down. Social-Emotional: empathy stimulated by turn-taking.

Accessible stairway

Physical: climbing the accessible stairway is for all and supports cross coordination as well as arm and leg muscles. For young children, walking stairs and alternating feet is developed. Social-Emotional: room for active breaks and adult helpers. An inclusive space.

Hammock

Physical: coordination and sense of balance when swaying. Social-Emotional: meeting, pushing friends gently back and forth, turn-taking.

The overall framework applied for these factors is the Environmental Product Declaration (EPD), which quantifies "environmental information on the life cycle of a product and enable comparisons between products fulfilling the same function" (ISO, 2006). This follows the structure and applies a Life-Cycle Assessment approach to the entire Product stage from raw material through manufacturing (A1-A3))

Verification of CO₂ calculation of: Play systems

Data version no. 2023-10-05

The CO₂ calculation and data are in compliance with the principles of a carbon footprint impact according to the GHG protocol (Greenhouse Gas Protocol), Scope 3, cradle to gate related to all individual components in the product category: "Play systems" represented by item no.: PCM200321-0950.

(Scope 3 emissions include emission sources in the upstream and downstream value chain).
